The 2020 kitchen collection from Byhand African Artisans introduces classic ways of combining expert artisanship with timeless slow design.

We have elaborated on the concept and with close interaction with our trusted Artisans of joint designs where brass and stone incorporates their different qualities into the object.

This Kitchen Collection is inspired by the craftsmanship from our past. The rough, though still elegant and simple and design shows that the craftsmanship is still present in our time.

For us the perfection of design is a holistic approach starting from the raw material to the finished product.
